

Lenny Henry

The Boy With Wings

A Virtual Event with Lenny Henry

Actor, comedian and author Lenny Henry joined us on Wednesday 20th October for his only schools' event of the year! The event was hosted jointly by Kibworth Books and the publisher, Macmillan Children's Books.

A recording of this event has been shared with Red Hill Field so that pupils can take advantage of this exciting event. Lenny introduced his brilliantly funny, action-packed middle grade adventure story THE BOY WITH WINGS. He took questions from the audience, talked about where all of his ideas come from, his love of comic books and chatted with our event host author/illustrator Nadia Shireen. We also saw illustrator Keenon Ferrell showing just how he brings Lenny's characters to life.

We are delighted to be able to offer an exclusive discounted rate of £10 on purchases of the book (RRP £12.99).

About the book

Twelve-year-old Tunde is an average kid with average friends whose life is turned upside down when in the middle of a football match he leaps for the ball and stays in the air - on an enormous pair of wings. He discovers new found powers and a secret past, and finds out how just how an average kid can become an extraordinary hero.

The story is illustrated by Keenon Ferrell and includes a comic strip featuring Tunde and his friends created by Mark Buckingham.
